

Sam Bankman Fried Donated Millions of Dollars to Support Bipartisan Politicians

In a Saturday tweet, Bankman- Sam Bankman Fried said that he was "a significant donor" in both Republican and Democrat primaries, "supporting constructive candidates across the aisle to prevent pandemics and bring a bipartisan climate to DC. The billionaire also revealed that he signed up for campaigns to accept cryptocurrencies and give them to politicians if they accept it. "If you're interested in contributing to crypto, reach out to your elected officials and ask if they're okay; FTX will be happy to sign them!" he said. The announcement comes just days after SBF described its statement about its intention to spend up to $1 billion on political donations in the run-up to the 2024 United States presidential election as a "dumb quote," saying that he was careless. Bankman-Fried has already spent nearly $40 million on political action committees and campaigns this year, most of which went to the Democratic Party and its candidates.
