

[text] Forex Brokers News FxPro To Resume Trading on CHF Crosses FxPro: FxPro is pleased to announce that trading on all CHF crosses will resume today as of 12:00 GMT+2, with a leverage of 1:10 for the protection of our clients. We would like to urge that clients exercise caution when trading these pairs. The possibility for high volatility remains, particularly in the run-up to Thursday's ECB interest rate decision and policy statement. FxPro will continue to monitor the market and may take steps to protect its clients in the event of extreme market conditions. As always, adequately capitalised accounts in relation to trade sizes and sound risk management rules are key. We wish you all a profitable week.
