When we are trading in forex market we should try to earn profit more and more one of the easiest way is open our trading account using rebate programs services.

Now I like talk about the good forex rebate programs features?

1. Highest rebate

Why we are using rebate programs?! Because we want earn rebate then first of all look at their rebate percentage.

2. The payment methods

Some rebate programs using limited payout method for example they accept only Paypal and credit cards

3. Customers support and language

If you know English language and read this article this is not important but it's better that you get support on your own language.

4. Easy to use and user friendly design

This is very important factor because sometimes when you are login to your personal area you will confuse and can't understand how to add your trading account.

5. Fast withdrawal system

This is very important when you request your withdrawal they pay you very fast or they hold your money in their account!

6. Market review and analysis

Many forex websites post daily monthly or weekly market analysis you can find a lot of source but I believe that the forex rebate programs analysis can be better because when you are trading they will earn money then your profit is their profit too!
